Proper Use and Care of Your New Sleep System by Kingsdown, Inc.

Take good care of your sleep system and it will take care of you. No other piece of furniture will be used in your home more than your sleep system. Like a home appliance, your sleep system requires some minimum measures for your healthy sleep, night after night.

A. Carry the mattress flat on its side. This way is easier and less likely to damage the mattress. If handles are provided, use for positioning on the foundation only. Be sure not to use the handles to move the mattress. They are not designed to do so.

B. Protect your mattress and foundation against accidents and/or damage. Keep your bedding clean and free from stains. Use a mattress pad and wash it frequently with your bed linens. Vacuum the surface of the mattress to keep it free of skin debris that accumulates in normal use.

Stains of ANY KIND will invalidate this warranty.

This includes, but is not limited to; grease, dirt or mud, beverage or food spills, stains caused by chemicals or cleaners or biological stains from either pets or humans.

Cleaners are not recommended as the use of cleaning fluids may damage the fabric and materials in your mattress. Allowing water or other liquids to penetrate your mattress may cause damage to the layers of the upholstery which can cause the materials to compress. Damage caused by water or other liquids will invalidate your warranty.

C. Properly support your sleep system; a warranty requirement

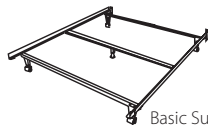

The proper center support & leg is required for all sleep systems and all sizes. (Sizes: Twin, Twin Long, Full, Full Long, Queen, King and California King).

Proper support as defined by Kingsdown, Inc., is the use of a frame or platform which includes appropriate center support with a center leg resting firmly on the floor. An acceptable alternative would be five rigid cross support slats with a center leg, centered left and right and head to foot, resting firmly on the floor; OR a solid platform surface with a rigid center.

An improper support frame and lack of center support will void your product warranty.

To ensure the designed performance of your new mattress set, it is essential that it be supported properly from underneath. The following are suggested levels of support.

Traditional Metal Bed Frames:

Basic Support for all sizes.

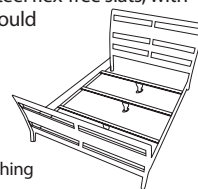

Maximum support for all sizes. More steel is in direct contact with the box spring / foundation for better support.

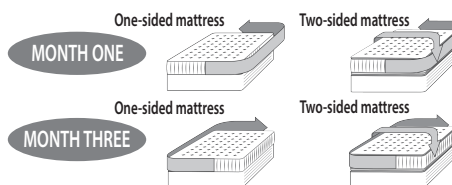

Beds with Head & Foot Boards:

When used on a traditional bedstead with head and foot board, it is highly recommended to use a minimum of 3 to 5 rigid cross slats or steel flex-free slats, with one or more legs in direct contact with the floor. These slats should be securely attached to the bedstead side rails. Utilizing the recommended support systems above will provide the best results, allowing your new comfort system to perform the way it was designed over the duration of its warranty.

NOTE: If the mattress is used independently of its matching foundation, or box spring, it must receive the same degree of support that the matching system would provide.

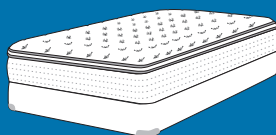

D. Rotate your mattress frequently unless indicated otherwise. Rotating your mattress helps optimize the longevity of your sleep system & settle any upholstery layers. Mattresses with personalized left & right core units do not require rotation. If you have a two-sided mattress, flip your mattress at the time of the turn. Your mattress is designed to conform to your body's contours beginning within the first few weeks of ownership. If you notice impressions don't worry, this means the system is functioning properly.

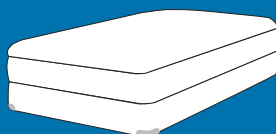

After/on the first month of use; rotate the mattress end to end. Two-sided Mattress: Flip also.

After/on the third month of use; rotate the mattress end to end. Two-sided Mattress: Flip also. Continue every three months.

For models featuring either a Quilted or Non-Quilted Surface

A QUILTED surface will feature a padded panel (sleeping surface) with patterned indentations created by the stitching or tufting of the quilting process.

A NON-QUILTED surface will feature a smoother panel that may or may not feature subtle relief of a fabric pattern but will not feature a deep stitched or tufted quilted pattern.

Safety Information & Mattress Care

Avoid placement of your sleep system near heaters or open flame.

Don't smoke in bed. Your mattress is certified and made in accordance with the Federal Mattress Flammability Standard 16 CFR Part 1633.

Use the sleep system for rest and relaxation, not a trampoline.

Don't let anybody stand or jump on the sleep system. It is not designed for this kind of abusive weight concentration.

Use proper size/depth sheets to keep the corners of the mattress from bending.

For Motion Based Mattresses:

Let the motion base do the flexing.

The mattress is built to flex with the movements of the motion base.

Leave the Law Label tag on your sleep set.

Don't remove the Law Label tag at the end of the mattress and box spring. The tag serves as identification and enables you to exercise your warranty rights.

Warranty Coverage

Limited Warranty

We warrant to the original purchaser, subject to the terms provided in this warranty brochure, that the mattress and/or box spring manufactured by us which you have purchased ("Sleep System by Kingsdown, Inc.") will be free from defects in material and workmanship as described in this brochure. If your set of bedding is replaced through a warranty claim during the non-prorated/prorated period of the warranty, your original warranty remains in effect from your original purchase date.

If your product by Kingsdown, Inc. has a defect covered by this limited warranty, Kingsdown, Inc. will provide a replacement if a valid warranty claim is properly submitted within the applicable non-prorated period of the warranty. The replacement, if the claim is submitted in the non-prorated period of the warranty, will be provided at no charge, upon verification of the valid warranty claim, however, you will be responsible for any applicable transportation and handling fees.

Only the defective piece or part will be replaced, not the entire set of bedding, unless the entire set is determined to be defective. Replacement of one piece will not automatically result in the replacement of the other piece.

In the event of replacement, Kingsdown, Inc. reserves the right to use the closest comparable materials or models and does not guarantee that the replacement will match the existing piece.

In the event of a claim filed in the pro-rated period of the warranty, and the product is approved to be returned, your remedy will be the issuance of a merchandise credit from the retailer from whom you purchased the item, for an amount based on the warranty schedule calculation, which you may use toward the piece authorized for replacement. You will be responsible for any applicable transportation and handling fees of a return and/or exchange. If the retailer is no longer in existence, please see the section of this warranty titled "How to Make a Warranty Claim".
